Canadian firms are including China in their plans, realizing that growth cannot depend on trade with the U.S. alone. This morning seminar will tackle some of the key challenges and concerns that Canadian firms have, including:

- How do I fund my expansion.
- How does a firm like mine set up properly to do business with or in China?
- What about my intellectual property and other legal issues?
- How do I ensure that the products I make or source there meet my quality standards?

This practical, case-oriented program, gathers experts from a variety of fields to inform and advise participants. In addition to key topic sessions, participants can sign up for one-on-one consultations to address specific questions regarding their China strategy.
