Series consists of financial records including budgets, reports and projected costs for the organization of the Jeux Canada Games 1981. The expenses of the host society were broken into three main accounts including the operational expenses, capital expenses and the publicity expenses associated with the activities undertaken by the Friends of the Games. Included are reports reflecting differentials between actual and projected costs for various operations, invoices, records relating to government assistance including tax exemptions and grants and reports from the City of Thunder Bay on operating and capital expenses reserved for the building of the Canada Games Complex. Also included are accounting records including spreadsheets tracking the sale of sports tickets and lottery tickets, cash receipts and disbursements.
